TOUR IN ILLIC

It seems that every day we are told to a re-adjustment of some kind or fact contrary to the viewpoint we hold. What we accept as true today we are likely to discover to be error tomorrow, which in some instances proves to be apparent and throws us out of the very least of our way.

It has long been accepted as truth that the method of judging what should be the proper weight of persons was by the sole standard of age and height.
Now comes along a bright boy of the University of California by the name of Dr. Helen Pryor, telling us the accepted system is all wrong and launching a new scheme to determine the kind and character of food we should eat in order to put on the proper average.

Hereafter the burning question
will be: "What is your bi-lliac diameter?"
Fortunately the word does not really carry such consequences as its sound would indicate.
Dr. Pryor maintains, and I presume she knows what she is talking about, that the real proper method to determine weight is a measure of the bi-lliac, just at the back of the hip bones. In other words how wide how thick and

Police Balked
In Investigation
Of Adze Slaying

Richmond police were apparently at a dead end yesterday in their investigation of the mysterious murder of Joseph Anthony here on January 7, 1935.
Hopes that Michael Rubonovich, former Ford plant worker and friend of Anthony might be able to shed some new light on the strange mystery evaporated when Rubonov-ich was questioned by Police Inspector George Bengley at the offices of Deputy District Attorney Homer Patterson yesterday morning.
Rubonovich came here from Newman, where he has been working to offer his cooperation to local police in their attempts to clear up the murder. Rubonovich told Ben-gley that he and Anthony were friends and the murder of the service station man came as a shock to him. He attended the funeral of the slain man.
However, Rubonovich was unable to give police any clues that might be used to solve the mystery.
Meantime police will continue their investigation of clues and leads in an effort to solve the mystery and bring the murderer to justice.

Freak Garage
Mishap Results
In Damage Suit

MARTINEZ, March 24—A freak accident in a Richmond garage today had its aftermath in the filing of a $27,365.43 automobile damage suit by Barney Robles against G.
M. Bateman, doing business under the name of G. M. Bateman Motor Sales, and Roy Peralla.
Robles alleges that on May 8, 1935, he drove his automobile into the garage, turned off the ignition and left the car in second gear. He stated that he was talking to Bateman and an employee, Roy Peralla, began working upon adjustment of the foot accelerator when the car suddenly leaped forward and struck him, knocking him down.
He asserts that he suffered an injury to his knee and leg and that since September, 1935, he has had to wear a brace.
The plaintiff also charges that he operated the restaurant concession at the San Pablo Rancho and was making $300 per month. Part of the amount asked in damages is for loss of revenue through inability to work.

Mrs. S. T. CORFIELD and sons are visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Bumgarner.

FIVE DEATHS REPORTED IN HUGE GALES

(BY UNITED PRESS)
Tornado winds, ripping savagely through deep south states Tuesday, left five dead, a score injured and property damage approximating $1,600,000.

Following in the wake of floods of the century which ravaged the zards in the "dust bowl," the new attack of nature swept across Missouri, Texas and Tennessee to bring suffering and destruction.

TEXAS HIT
Death and destruction was cen-

Lamson Jury Stood 9-3 For Conviction

Still In Custody

DAVID LAMSON, snapped rubber bands nervously as he awaited verdict of a jury deliberating his fate. Yesterday afternoon the jury reported to the court that it was unable to agree and the court ordered the jury discharged. Whether Lamson will be freed, or will face a fifth trial, will be decided within ten days.

Roosevelt Farm Tax Measure Is Accepted

WASHINGTON, March 24—UP—President Roosevelt won his first off with Congress over the new $1,137,000,000 revenue program today when the House ways and means sub-committee reluctantly accepted excise taxes on farm products as a source of additional cash.
The agreement to recommend this form of taxation to the full ways and means committee came after the sub-committee decided to refund $35,000,000 from the federal treasury to certain retailers and wholesalers who suffered invalid losses under the invalidated AAA.

HEARING IS ENDED
Simultaneously, Chairman Samuel
B. Hill, Democrat, Washington,
of the sub-committee said his group had ended hearings and would submit its report within 48 hours. The final committee headed by Representative Robert Doughton, Democrat, North Carolina, will open hearings on Monday.

FIFTH TRIAL DECISION IS IN ABEYANCE

SAN JOSE, March 24—UP—Sagging lines about his face and eyes betraying his disappointment at a jury's failure to reach a verdict in his fourth trial on wife murder charges,
David Lamson vent the solitude
of his cell tonight, uncertain
whether he would be tried again.

Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco
dismissed the jury of seven men and five women at 1:50 P. M.
today, approximately 98 hours after they took the case at 12:13
P. M. last Friday.

NINE TO THREE
They stand unchanged through 14 ballots, the jurors reported themselves deadlocked nine to three for conviction. By strange coincidence the jury in Lamson's second trial also was dismissed after 95 hours' deliberation, when it stood nine to three for conviction.

Prosecutor Allen P. Lindsay,
barrister and worn by the nine weeks'
battle of the fourth trial, immediately moved the case be continued to April 1 to be set for trial after Judge Trabucco dismissed the jury today.

FIFTH TRIAL
It was problematical, however,
whether Prosecutor Herbert Bridges, and other members of Thomas' staff would ask that Lam-son be held for a fifth trial.
Thomas has 30 days to decide the El Cerrito city jail, arrested

last night by Officer Floyd M.

ating their machines in an erratic

Turks Follow Nazis Lead; Demand Right To Fortify Straits

LONDON, March 24—UP—Claiming the right to control the Dardanelles, the Bosphorus and the Sea of Marmora, Turkey today tossed a new problem into the lap of the League of Nations after its Council adjourned with the Franco-German crisis deflected.
Failure of Germany and Italy to accept the Locarno powers' accord embodying proposals for solving the Rhineland question—oldized the Council to adjourn. It will sit again
at Geneva after Great Britain, Italy, France, Germany and Belgium have reached an agreement.

NOTICE GIVEN
Taking a cue from Chancellor
Adolf Hitler's military re-occupation of the Rhineland, the Turkish government formally gave notice of its intention to claim the right to fortify the Dardanelles, the Bos-phorus and the Sea of Marmora.
This action, if carried out, would be a denunciation of the annex to the 1923 treaty of Lausanne.

Turkey will claim full sovereignty over the Dardanelles and the right to arm and defend the straits.
SHOWDOWN Averted
LONDON, March 24—UP—Germany today temporarily averted a showdown with the Locarno powers by postponing, until two days after her Reichstag elections, a formal reply to Anglo-Franco-Belgian proposals for settling the Rhineland crisis.

Simultaneously Italy notified the Locarno powers of which she is one that she will not accept the Anglo-Franco-Belgian accord until she has been assured that League of Nations sanctions against her would be lifted.

NEW PROPOSALS
The German note, handed to Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden by Joachim von Ribbentrop, Chancellor Adolf Hitler's diplomatic envoy, said the Reich would submit detailed proposals for a European new deal to the British government on March 31.
Germany goes to the polls Sunday, March 29, in what is tantamount to a plebiscite to give overwhelming endorsement of Hitler's foreign policies, following his re-militarization of the Rhineland zone.
The reply was a provisional refusal to accept any proposals conflicting with Germany's "right to equality and honor."

It rejected the clause of the Lo-carno accord providing for an international force of occupation in the Rhineland.
SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 24—UP—
The Board of Regents of the University of California today rejected a proposal to abolish compulsory military training on the Berkeley
and UCLA campuses.
The board announced R.O.T.C.
would be continued as a requirement for every male student during the first two years of his four-year college course.
"The regents of the University of California have again considered the proposal that instruction in military science and tactics at the university be made elective rather than compulsory," the announcement said, "and they have concluded that there should be no departure from the regulations now in force."
"This determination they believe to be in accordance with the legal and moral application which rests upon them as the governing body of the university, and they believe no other would be consistent with the terms of the trust established by the organic act of 1868 and perpetuated by the people."

"Moreover, they deem the existing regulation to be a sound expression of academic policy."

Minor Thefts Investigated By City Police

Two petty thefts were being investigated by Richmond police last evening.

L. H. Bryant reported that someone entered his home at 341 Twentieth street and stole several pairs of socks, neckties and other articles.
He placed no value on the loot. Entrance was gained through a rear window.
Tools valued at about $25 were stolen from the home of F. S. Foster, of 724 South Tenth street.

William Burke, all of El Cerrito, were recuperating tonight from minor injuries received early today
when their car crashed into a concrete arch near here.

Burke suffering a compound fracture of the right ankle, was the most seriously injured. Mr. and Mrs.

face and neck.
Berchead said he lost control of

The trio were en route to Santa

Snow Falls On Mount Diablo; Rain Expected

Reversing the usual procedure, March entered like a lamb and is leaving like a lion.
Rain, snow and hail fell in this area yesterday and the mercury took a nose dive last night as a chill, northwest wind, swept the area. Overcoats were much in demand as the temperature went down to 35.
Snow covered the crest and upper slopes of Mount Diablo to a depth of four inches early yesterday, transforming the drab peak into its annual and scenic wonderland. A mile down the slope at Rock City, there were about four inches of snow. It was reported that the ring of Coast Range mountains about the bay also was fringed with white. Snow was reported on Mission Peak near Mission San Jose and in the foothills near Niles.
Unsettled weather was predicated for Thursday.
A heavy rain storm swept Richmond early yesterday morning.
Winds of gale-like force swept the city. No damage was reported.

Floods Again Are Menacing Stricken Areas

CINCINNATI, O., March 26—UP—Fear of a second flood on the river and outbreak of disease in Northern Kentucky towns brought new worries tonight to residents of the lower Ohio valley.
The flooded Mahoning and Tuscarawas rivers, fed by swollen creeks and heavy rains, poured into the Ohio. The Mahoning was eight feet above flood stage at Youngstown, while the Tuscarawas, near Massillon, was slightly over flood stage.
Attention of relief workers was centered on the Kentucky towns across the river. Campbell County, Ky., reported more cases of contagious disease than at any time
in 20 years.

RIVER RISING
PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 26—
UP—Repair work on flood-ravaged Pittsburgh was stopped tonight as workers and business men turned wary eyes toward a rising Monongahela river.

Threat of another flood caused much concern with first reports that Weather Bureau officials said the crest would not approach that of last week, when the muddy waters rose to the historic height of 26 feet, 21 above flood stage.

Five Prisoners Are Injured In Auto Accident

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24—
Five Federal prisoners were shaken up like dice in a box, but not seriously injured, yesterday when the locked sheriff's van in which they were being transferred from the Contra Costa county jail at Martinez, accidentally overturned three miles this side of the San Francisco jail in San Mateo county.
Jail Doctor A. A. Berger patched
them up.
Rumors of laxity were responsible for a Washington order that all Martinez Federal prisoners be taken forthwith to the San Francisco jail. Those moved were Joe Parente, rum runner; Leon Greenberg, white slaver; Orestes San-

EDWARDS CHUCKS 1 HIT BALL AS OILERS WIN 4TH VICTORY

The Richmond Union high school added another victory to its string—its fourth consecutive victory—yesterday when the local boys defeated Concord, 3-0 in a fast game here.

Superior mound work by Edwards, local chucker, was the deciding factor in the contest. The local boy allowed only one hit and struck out eight opposing batsmen.

Harwell, Concord chucker, pitched a whole of a game for the visitors. He allowed only five hits and struck out one man. However, his teammates were unable to connect.

The Oilers' final run came in the fifth when Cecchi reached first on an error. Rocha smashed out a double to score his teammate.

Considerable improvement was shown by the local boys who are preparing to enter the A.C.L. league. Coach Phil Hanger is giving his charges stiff workouts and has scheduled three practice games each week to give the boys valuable experience.

Today the Richmond club will play Crockett here.

Yesterday's line score:
RICHMOND—3 5 1
CONCORD—0 1 2

RAILROADERS BEAT GROVES IN FAST GAME

The Santa Fe basketball team today is undisputed champion of the Contra Costa County League and the Richmond City League.

Last evening the Railroaders added the second title to their string by walloping the Pittsburg Mission Grove club by a score of 59 to 42 at the Martinez high school before a record crowd.

NELSON SCORES

As usual, the Railroaders took the first half to get really warmed up to the business of shooting baskets. As the half ended the locals were on the long end of a 22-16 score.

In the second half, however, the firm of J. Nelson, S. Nelson, Moltoza, et al., ran wild.

Stan Nelson, as usual, was the Frank Lucreti of the evening. He scored 26 points—getting ten of them in the first half and 16 in the last half.

Moltoza turned in a whole of a game for the local club, scoring 15 points while Tula got ten.

Bassett was high man for the Pittsburg team with 14 points.

The LaMoine girls of Richmond defeated the Gleason Y. L. I. by a score of 21 to 20 in the opening game. The local girls were leading 14 to 8 at half time. In the second half the Gleason club started a rally that almost brought them victory.

K. Peterson got 11 points for the locals and G. Heise and Otten got five each.

In the second preliminary game Danville lost to Martinez Moose by a score of 39 to 27.

Mad Hermit Of Fulda Flats In Publicity Try

POLSON PRISON, March 24.—UP—An attempt at suicide by Earl "Bud" Kinsball, 24 year old "wreath" of Fulda Flats, in which the death row convict used a shoe cylet to scratch his arm, drew little sympathy from prison officials today who termed it a "publicity stunt."

Kinsball, awaiting execution for the murder of James C. Kennett, Sr., retired Chicago contractor, removed an eyelet from his shoe and scratched his arm until he had drawn considerable blood.

The wound was superficial, however, and he was returned to his cell after medical treatment. The prison physician said the wound was on the muscular part of the arm, rather than over the arteries of the wrist.

Guards who foiled the "suicide" attempt found a blood-smeared note in which the youthful slayer said:

"Bury me by the side of Hall (George Hall, Yreka police killer, who faces execution Friday). To hell with my family's wishes. I don't want them blocks of fancy granite or marble."

WINGED "O" TO CONTEST WITH GOLDEN BEARS

BERKELEY, Mar. 24.—With the probability that two world's record-holders will compete and the certainty that a number of national champions will add strength to the lineup, the Olympic Club Invaders, headed by the "Golden Bears," are expected to hand the "Winged O" their first defeat of the track season.

While Coach Carley Hunter, of the "Winged O," is busy gathering his team from all sections of Northern California, it appeared today that both Walter Marty, world's record holder in the high jump and "Blazing Ben" Eastman holder of four world's records and so-called a fifth in middle distance running, will be the brightest stars of the club roster.

The club lineup shows definite weaknesses in the sprints and hurdles, but aside from these four events, appears fully capable of giving the Golden Bears a stormy afternoon.

Included in Hunter's squad list besides Marty and Eastman are such American Olympic Games hopes as Norman Bright, distance runner and holder of the American record in the two-mile, Bob Clark, former California star who has held the national decathlon championship for two years, Jack Mangler, also a former California athlete who toured Finland last summer as pole vaulter with the AAU team, Elroy Robison, national collegiate and AAU half-mile champion, Bobby Jones and "Hero" Laborde, former Stanford discus ace, J. S. Wadsworth, formerly of California, and Johnny Mottram, formerly of Stanford, who are rated the best of Northern California javelin men.

Condition of the club forces, expected to be exceptionally good for the early season, since this is the Olympic year, is likely to prove to be the deciding factor in the meet.

Brutus Hamilton, Bear coach, hopes that the Bears may be able to force the contest to the relay for a decision.

One of the best races of the afternoon should be the quarter-mile duel between Los Wister, of the club, and Archie Williams, the now Bear sensation, who last week set a new California 440 record in 1:48.2, erasing from the books the 15-year-old mark of "Oxy" Hendrixson.

Of 148.4 Williams was defeated at 300 yards by Wister in one of the San Francisco indoor meets last month, and will be looking for revenge.

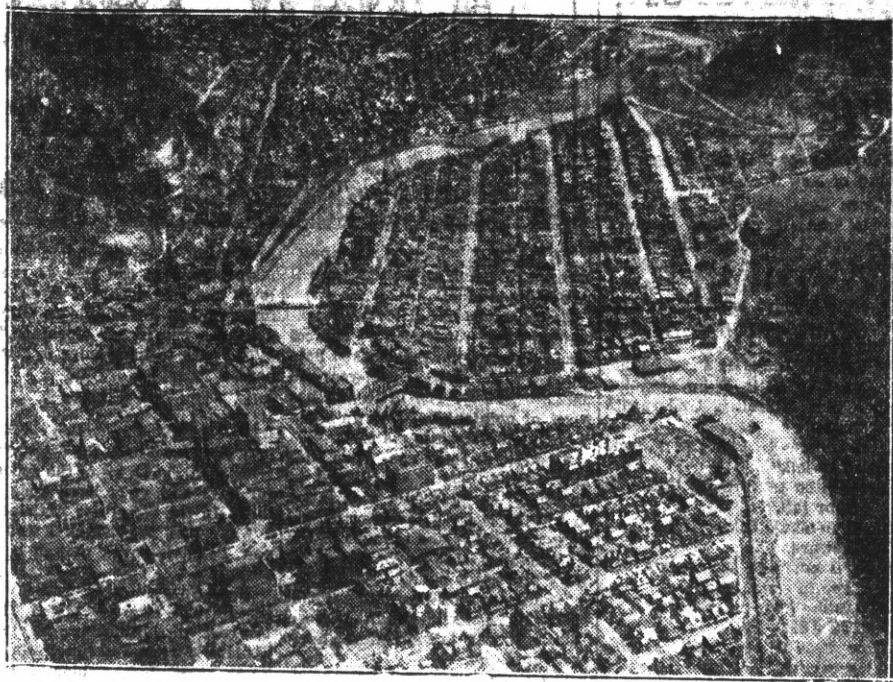

Macdonald Accident Brings Balm Action

MARTINEZ, March 24.—John G. Young, Jr., today filed suit in superior court here against Dr. Leo W. Wuesthoff, asking judgment of $5,236.95 for automobile collision injuries he charges he received in a wreck in Richmond last month.

He claims he suffered a five-inch cut in his scalp, and injury to his skull in a mishap which occurred February 12, 1936, at the intersection of Twelfth street and Macdonald avenue.

Attorneys T. M. Carlson and Robert V. Collins represent the plaintiff.

FAIRMONT PTA PROUD OVER FINE RATING

Fairmont Parent Teacher Association is pluming itself today. It was one of the fifteen Associations in Alameda and Contra Costa counties to get a "Standard Association" rating at the district convention, held in Oakland Monday, and the only one of the 17 schools in the Richmond district to receive the rating. In El Cerrito the rating of this record? The answer is "Yes." That is, all who are interested in Parent Teacher work are very proud indeed.

The credit goes principally to Mrs. J. L. Hollar, president for the past year, who kept the unit up to standard requirements. This means that, among other things, the unit had the six active chairmen required the 10 percent subscriptions to PTA magazines, the required percentage of attendance at meetings and classes, the required courses of study, and the required number attending them. Mrs. Hollar was assisted in her work by a set of loyal officers who co-operated enthusiastically with her to make her administration the unqualified success that it was.

FIREMEN'S WHIST TO BE HELD SATURDAY

The El Cerrito fire department will stage another of their end-of-the-month parties Saturday evening at City Hall. There will be about 20 hands of whist, followed by refreshments, and the remainder of the evening will be spent dancing. Serving on the committee of arrangements are G. W. Ballard, chairman, Ed Gagnon and S. S. Hendon. The public is invited to these affairs. The card games start at 8 P. M. and the prizes will be nice next Saturday evening.

MRS. STUART GIVEN BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Friends of Mrs. R. Marvin Stuart prepared a birthday surprise for her Friday of last week. While she was in Richmond they repaired to her home with a hot covered dish luncheon, and she returned just in time to find the luncheon table all set and her guests waiting for her with birthday gifts.

Present were Mrs. H. P. Burpee, Mrs. W. E. Allen, Mrs. Frank Blackard, Mrs. Ed Henson, Mrs. E. W. Wingham, Mrs. Earl Tessmer, Mrs. John Krotz and Mrs. E. W. Schupp.

ELECTION DATE SET FOR WATER DISTRICT PLAN

MARTINEZ, March 24.—Adopting revised boundaries, the board of supervisors today directed that an election be held on a proposal for organization of a central and eastern Contra Costa county water district on May 7, in conjunction with the presidential primary. The board made the election call by unanimous vote.

It formation of the district is approved by the voters included within its boundaries, a subsequent election will be held to select directors. The supervisors fixed compensation for election officers at $10.

BEGIN SURVEY
Coincident with the action of the supervisors, it was learned that a crew of ten men, directed by federal engineers, will be used at Antioch immediately to begin surveys for contours and elevations for the canal to be built from Knightsen to Port Chicago and thence south to Ygnacio Valley. A pipe line will be extended to Martinez.

Roughly, the district boundaries extend from a point north of Brentwood to the easterly limits of Crocker, taking in a strip along the waterfront that extends to the hills and which includes the Ygnacio and Clayton valleys. All municipalities within this area are included.

CONSOLIDATES PRECINCTS

When County Engineer R. R. Arnold and the Contra Costa Title company submitted a description of revised boundaries to the supervisors, it was revealed that the land voluntarily included within the district by owners has a valuation in excess of that excluded from the district. The excluded acreages lie in the Concord, Brentwood and Port Chicago districts. Acreages included upon the request of owners are in upper Ygnacio Valley and Clayton Valley.

For the purposes of the water district election the supervisors ordered a portion of Brentwood precinct No. 1, which is in the district, consolidated with Oakley District No. 4.

active members.
A special surprise party for the Boy's Hi-Y Club was held on Tuesday evening of this week when the officers of the club turned cooks and provided a hamburger feed. C. E. Morris, Y secretary was on hand and had several reels of motion pictures of the Albany Y camps of previous years and told the boys something of camp life.

TEN NEW MEMBERS INITIATED BY GIRLS

Ten new members were received into the El Cerrito Girls' Hi-Y Club at the last Thursday meeting. This brings the total membership up to 20 and only five more girls may be admitted before the membership list will be closed. Members received were: Alice Hillingsa, Ruth Pink, Iris Glachrist, Helen Goldman, Verna Johnson, Jean Curtis, Patsy Osborn, Norma Rodgers, and Nellie Rosenstrauch. A formal initiation was held and each girl presented with a Hi-Y pin.

HELP NEEDED TO FINANCE CAMP TRIP

Help in sending several members of the Boys Hi-Y Club to camp also the girls' club members, is being asked by the leaders in charge of the two groups. Many of the boys and girls from El Cerrito wish to attend camp this year and the experience will provide real leaders for the community in later years. If you care to help, please send in a contribution to the secretary of the joint Y. M. C. A. movement of El Cerrito and Albany at 921 Kalns avenue, and ask that it be used to assist the young people of El Cerrito to camp. Thank you.

Campers may register at any time to attend the El Cerrito boys' and girls' summer camp at Jordana park in Lake County. Final selection of leaders has been made and announcement in full will be given next month. The camp is open to any boy or girl between 8 and 18 years of age and additional information may be secured by calling Thornwell 2949 or writing to the camp director at 921 Kalns avenue, Albany.

Foley Rumored As Appointee To S. F. Court Bench

SACRAMENTO, March 24.—UP —Possible selection of Thomas M. Foley, chairman of the veterans' welfare board, for a San Francisco municipal judgeship, was rumored strongly here today. Foley is director of the state department of military and veterans' affairs.

However, Governor Frank Merriam said he had not given the matter any consideration. He said he was not ready to make any appointment for the vacancy created by the death of Municipal Judge Leo Murasky.

Reports indicated appointment of Foley to the bench would be followed by designation of John R. Quinn, Los Angeles county supervisor, as Foley's successor. Quinn was a former member of the welfare board. He opposed Merriam in the 1934 gubernatorial primary.

New Murders By Selz Feared By Investigators

REDWOOD CITY, March 24.—Discovery of blood stains and hair in two machines owned by Ralph Selz, confessed slayer of Mrs. Ada French Rice, prompted San Mateo County authorities today to redouble investigation of Selz's activities.

The blood stains, according to Deputy Sheriff Thomas Maloney, were found by Hart Shrader, automobile club investigator.

The stains, Maloney said, bore no relation to the slaying of Mrs. Rice, and led him to believe Selz was responsible for at least two other murders.

One of the victims, it was feared was Louis F. Johnson, uncle of Selz. Efforts to locate Johnson since he visited Selz last May have been futile, Maloney declared.

In June, authorities learned, Selz carefully washed out the rumble seat and interior of one of his cars early one morning at a Palo Alto service station.

and Gladys Wilson, today was decided in favor of the defendants by Superior Judge A. F. Bray, who has had the matter under submission.

Mrs. Brown had claimed that on March 22, 1928, she and V. Harold Brown entered into an agreement with the defendants to sell them some property in the Amended Map of the City of Richmond and sought to force the defendants to fulfill the contract.

Court Studies Tests Case Of State Rum Tax

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—UP —Superior Judge J. L. Harris of the San Francisco county court today took under submission briefs filed in a legal battle over the right of the State to require liquor stamp taxes on each bottle of liquor sold at army and navy post exchanges in California.

The suit was instituted by the McKesson and Robbins Inc., organization, to restrain the State Board of Equalization from selling cases of liquor on which the State Island navy yard exchange refused to place stamps.

The suit was made a test case of the right of the equalization board to tax liquor sold on Federal property.

Various members of the State Board of Education have declined to investigate the Trussell charges as contained in a group of affidavits submitted by Trussell, but others have commented that this believed an inquiry should be undertaken. As an elective officer, Kersey may be removed from office only by a special election called for that purpose.

SCABIES VERY COMMON CAUSE OF ITCHING

Many patients undergoing intense itching of the skin have scabies without knowing that their trouble is due to the presence of a parasite. There are several reasons why the correct diagnosis is not made: First, the skin parasite is not easy to see and is readily overlooked unless a careful search is made. The female parasite is of a greyish color and is just barely seen with the naked eye, while the male can not be seen at all. Unless the doctor examines the affected skin with a lens he may fail to find either the parasite or the characteristic burrow made under the skin by the female.

Another reason why the possibility of scabies is overlooked is that the patient will do considerable scratching in an effort to get relief from the itching sensation, and the skin is injured by the fingernails in such a way as to easily confuse the diagnosis. Also, the skin damaged by severe scratching may undergo secondary infection which will serve to cover up the original signs of scabies, with the result that the possibility of scabies is not suspected.

Synonyms for scabies are prairie itch, Norwegian itch, Cuban itch, etc. When the patient does not recognize the cause of the symptoms and makes no effort to get rid of the parasite, his trouble will return. It is not unusual for the itch to prove annoying over a period of several months, or even years. Or, the patient may find out what is wrong and take a suitable treatment for ridding the body of the parasite, but may not understand the importance of thorough cleansing of his clothing and bedding and the parasite may then be re-introduced by being picked up again from their sources. Again, scabies is very prevalent in families and one member of the family who is treated successfully may suffer a return of the symptoms simply because another member with the parasite does not receive treatment.

The characteristic symptom of scabies is itching. Usually, the itching is absent during the daytime, but becomes intense at night. As a general rule, it becomes noticeable soon after the patient goes to bed, when the warmth of the bed covering may serve to bring it on. After the female reaches the skin, she will burrow under the epidermis and in the tunnel thus made, will deposit ova. The favored sites for the burrows are the webs between the fingers, the wrists, the ankles, the folds of the armpits, the beltline, etc. In those who have a tendency to hives, the scratching brought on by the itching will cause wheals or raised spots which may attract the attention away from the burrows.

I have prepared a new article on Scabies which will be sent to all of those requesting a copy. This article discusses a simple treatment which often proves effective, and which is based upon a prescription you may obtain from your doctor. If you wish a copy of this article, write to me in care of this newspaper and enclose ten cents and one large, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in stamps. I will return the article and the body of the parasite, if a few simple rules are obeyed to the letter.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Gitting Teeth)

Question: Mrs. M. W. says: "My husband told me I gitted my teeth with a I am asleep during the daytime I am awfully nervous at night. The most common cause of getting the teeth during the night is indigestion. Try using a better diet and use other good habits to build up your health and see if you cannot improve your condition and your nerves at the same time. It is the nervousness, however, that is what is causing it. Dental trouble, eye strain, indigestion, etc., are all things that the reproductive organs are common physical causes of extreme nervousness."

(Lemon Juice)

Question: Mr. O. V. asks: "Do you think it is a good plan to take the juice of two lemons each day? Can you give eyes upon the stomach?"

Answer: If you find that the lemon juice provides you with relief, it is all right to keep on taking it. Lemon juice is a good source of vitamin C. I would not advise adding the juice to your regular meals and believe you will get the most good from it if you will take one-half hour before breakfast. When there is present constipation, a laxative given due to an eye defect, the patient may develop various symptoms of indigestion which are relieved when the eyes are fixed with glasses.

Pain Is a Guide Which Needs to Be Followed With Much Care

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

MANY attacks of abdominal pain are brought on by inflammation or some sort of obstruction in the internal organs. This obstruction may be a real one or some congestion of the tissues in acute inflammation that creates a stoppage. There is enough similarity of symptoms to make it difficult to diagnose the cause.

If the patient is having an acute attack he may not be able himself to tell the exact location of the pain. This is frequently the case in appendicitis. Indeed, appendicitis provokes at the same time such acute pain and such general misery that it has come to cover almost any exaggerated abdominal distress.

For a number of years, the diagnosis of appendicitis was as common that you really weren't in good shape unless you could qualify by having it or boast of an operation on account of it.

We have grown discreet with experience and admit now that appendicitis calls for haste in extreme cases but needs to be met with the most patient caution in others.

No doubt many operations have been done that were ill-advised and others were put off too long. The appendix has always been with us but like many common things is little understood. It is always well when confronted with something you don't understand to get some good authority on the subject and read what he says about it.

Let me say here that the American Medical Association is always glad to advise you on reliable medical works. This doesn't mean that you are to do your own doctoring, but a good reference book will help you in deciding what to have done. For instance, you will learn enough to discredit many of the wild tales told about the appendix.

I have heard of cases, supposedly authentic, where the sac was found full of chips from the use of imperfect cooking vessels. At one time people almost always used grapes because their appendices were said to be full of grape seeds. This is the purest gossip, for the canal of the appendix is scarcely larger than the head of a darning needle. The only seeds I have ever found in an appendix were banana seeds which are mere black dots.

The normal appendix does not look at all like the misery maker it is supposed to be. It is somewhat resembles one of the ear in worms you see lying on the ground after a mild spring rain. It is rather insignificant, about two to three inches long usually.

It is possibly a quarter inch in diameter if not inflamed. It is just a stringy little sac, a tiny canal running its entire length to a blind end. The end is attached to the colon at the valve where the large and small intestines meet. Thus when any matter that should be eliminated strays off into this blind end, there can be set up enough pressure to make a pain.

Dr. Chrisman offers readers the privilege of addressing questions to him care of this column. He will answer questions of general interest in his regular daily column.

Modes and Manners

QUESTION: "Met a man out on a dancing couple when the girl is a stranger to him?—F. W."

ANSWER: This may be done only when the girl is known to the man desiring to cut-in. If a stranger should cut-in the girl may refuse with a shake of the head or simply by saying, "I'd rather not thank you."

QUESTION: "Last week I told a certain young man of our neighborhood that we were going to be friends and that I was wishing to see him again. When we met on the street he said I could meet him?—R. H. C."

ANSWER: Don't give him the cold stare. That would be rude. But you may avoid him if you wish, either by crossing over to the other side of the street, or by turning your head away, or by hurrying along.

QUESTION: "How long after the death of a friend should I wait before sending cards of condolence to the family?—B. B."

ANSWER: At least a week should be allowed to elapse.

QUESTION: "When two place are used in a table setting, how should they be placed?—D. M."

ANSWER: The water glass goes in the accustomed place at the point of the knife. A second glass would be placed just below it and a little to the right.

QUESTION: "How should hot cheeses, such as American or Swiss, be eaten?—D. G."

ANSWER: With a fork.

Waiters Benefit From Hotel Man's Life

By TALBOT LAKE

MORE than twenty-five years ago a young man who had served as a waiter in famous eating places on the Continent and England watched bitterly as jobs went not to the qualified men but to the men who bid highest for them.

As a waiter who had served his apprenticeship in Nuremberg, waited on royalty in Frankfurt-am-Main, in Nice, Paris, he decried the practice of "salons," as they were called in America, which kept good men from jobs because of the practice of auctioning off jobs. He promised himself that when he ever attained a position of importance in the hotel industry he would bend every effort to eliminate this practice.

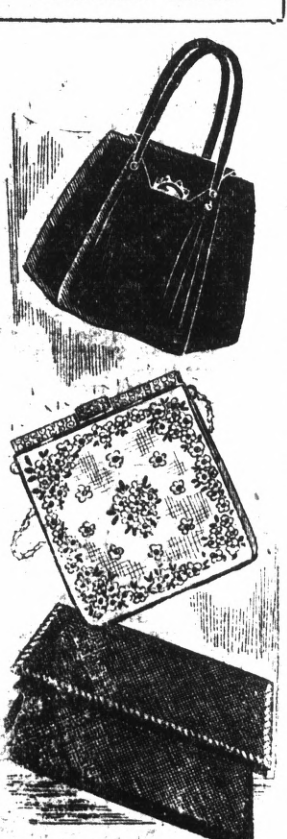

Years later as maître d'hôtel of the Hotel McAlpin in New York, Fred G. Walther, short, immaculately attired, slow speaking, told the International Geneva Association of which he was head that the association was now ready to serve as its own employment agency.

This was in 1917. He is still president of the 33 branches that are scattered in the United States. Each branch takes in only the highest type of hotel and restaurant employees—men who are careerists as far as the business is concerned.

The history of International Geneva in the United States is a history of Walther to a great extent. One of the charter members of the American branch in 1904, he fought to make the organization more than a social and mutual beneficial club. For years he preached the gospel of self-respect for waiters, to be gained by having a thorough knowledge of the work.

Most of the members of his staff are fellow Genevans—as they call themselves—and their respect for their president is a result of his continuous urging that hotel managers humanize their relationship with the men who work for them. He has fought the good fight for the men who have grown old in the service and can still serve better than the younger waiters who are in great demand now because of their chimerical values as "attractions" rather than ability.

Best Makeup Is Result of Self-Study

By JACQUELINE HUNT

USING make-up properly is largely a matter of common sense, patience and practice. There are many fine points in knowing how to select the proper colors and how to use them to emphasize your most attractive features.

The oval face is considered the ideal type. While all of you cannot have perfectly molded oval contours, you can, with the correct shade of rouge and its proper placement, improve the contours of your face. You can give it symmetry and balance. You can even take years from its appearance!

Study your face in your mirror and decide whether it is the long and somewhat slender type or the wide type; then look over the following rules and follow those that apply to you.

1. If the face is too long, you can make it appear shorter and fuller by rouging away from the nose with broad, sweeping strokes over your cheekbones towards the temples. Lengthen your eyebrows by extending them toward the temples. Do not accent any natural arch, but try to give it a straighter more interesting line by plucking.

2. If your face is too broad, try bringing your rouge in toward the nose and carry it down in a thin, subtly blended triangle. If your eyebrows are heavy, try to give them a cleaner, thinner line by plucking the hairs that grow down on the eyelid and too far above the main line of your brow.

3. For the somewhat mature face, rouge should be used sparingly and blended so softly that it is impossible to tell where it begins or ends. It should be blended up and out toward the temples to give a youthful "lift" to the face. Never use rouge near the jawline or near the expression lines at the corners of the mouth. Never touch rouge to the upper eyelid.

Eye make-up is another problem that calls for discretion. The wrong shade of eye shadow can make the eyes appear sunken and worried. The safest guide is your own mirror!

Bronze or silvery gray shadow can be used by most women. Some shades of brown may make your eyes look weary. Blue, violet or pink shadow blended softly over the lids may make you look alluring—or they may make you look artificial.

Lipstick is the final, important step in make-up. Here, too, you must experiment to find the best color for you.

Your skin has shades of color that make it different from every other skin; so it is impossible to tell you to use a dark lipstick or a light one, or to attempt to name a shade for you. You must try it, not only in the bright sunlight with a good hand mirror, but under artificial light. Every woman, I believe, should have two lipsticks for different occasions.

At current fashion shows, our daily fare, the taffeta petticoat flowered and plain, even the brightest red taffeta, has swished its way into prominence and with it our old friend, the camisole. Taffeta looks crisp and fresh and sounds as exciting as it looks.

The shops are tremendously busy fitting ready-made garments and their foundations. It's all very well as long as the clothes continue to be unrestrictive and so on, but it's not good with any type of shirt and skirt combination.

Serviceable though suits undoubtedly are, they do impose obligations. On acquiring a good suit states trouble have only started. There are all manner of musts, starting with the blouse. No wonder many still find a dress the answer to a busy woman's prayer.

It isn't so long ago that English fashions were taken tongue in check. They were restricted in interest to regulation sports clothes—and to court dress. Now all that has changed.

Fashion shows feature English clothes. Women like them. English tailored suits and accessories are admired and, what's more, worn. So is the afternoon type of thing, and the floaty sort of transparent English women seem to like for both Ascot and evenings.

Toast and Coffee

There was a time when toast and coffee and fruit juice were considered a breakfast for anybody. This was a reaction from the old-fashioned heavy breakfast. A wife who is wise might find out whether her husband would relish an egg, some taken or some hot cakes. She might be surprised.

Break the Ice

With summer on the way, many fathers should appreciate the chance of getting acquainted with their sons. The simplest hike, the afternoon at the ball game—some pleasure which the grown-up and the child can share—will serve to break the ice of reserve which too often exists between the masculine members of a family.

Give Them Duties

The reason so many boys and girls are bored is that they are doing nothing when they could help with necessary work. It is mothers who assign them definite tasks. Little boys, especially, will help their mothers in an orderly fashion provided they are asked and given some idea of what is to be done.

Women Have Taken Men's Planning Meals Best Done Styles Before When Planner Is Hungry

By IRENE VAIL

New York — An onslaught on masculine wardrobes is not altogether new. It isn't the first time men's clothes have caught the predatory glance of the other sex. But they never seem to have made a more determined drive than at the moment. Which is amusing, since there never was a time when it pleased the same women to go to the other extreme and to doll themselves in frilly frothy clothes of the most complicated cut.

The word simple threatens to be given a rest by fashion writers, although it must still work overtime as long as men's clothes continue to be appropriated for sports and utility purposes generally.

At current fashion shows, our daily fare, the taffeta petticoat flowered and plain, even the brightest red taffeta, has swished its way into prominence and with it our old friend, the camisole. Taffeta looks crisp and fresh and sounds as exciting as it looks.

FOR COCONUT LOVERS

Here is an old-fashioned coconut candy. Baked coconut drops is the name and the recipe is as follows:
1 cup sweetened condensed milk, 4 cups (1/2 pound) coconut shredded, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons vanilla, 1/4 teaspoon almond extract.
Combine milk, coconut, salt, and flavoring, and mix well. Drop from teaspoon on greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) ten minutes. This makes three dozen.

MODERN WOMEN

Girls May Attach Too Much Importance to Mere Social Episode

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

IT IS conceded to be a woman's privilege to change her mind. The best explanation she usually gives for her right-about-face attitude is—"because." Men have to be satisfied with it. That's her story and she sticks to it—make of it what they can. Women insist, however, on knowing just why a man does this or that. If he does not give them a full and complete reason for his surprising behavior they are outraged. As in this case:

"My dear Mrs. Martin: I met a young man about twenty-three at a dance in a town much larger than the one in which I live. It is about 30 miles away. My folks and some friends usually go to the dances there."

"The first dance I attended there he rubbed off my feet. He is not handsome, but a perfect dancer and has a wonderful personality."

"I liked him very much and it appeared he liked me, as he danced so often with me that evening."

"About a month later we went to the dance in that town again. He was there. He spoke to me, but that was all. He did not even dance with me. I thought maybe he thinks I'm too young to bother with."

"I'm only seventeen, but I look older. All my friends say that I look and act older than my sister, who is twenty."

"I can't seem to figure out why men act like that. It has happened before, but not with men I care for as much as this particular person. At that dance I had a wonderful time and was rushed with a lot of other young men, but the young man was so cool. It seems to happen that way if I really like them. Perhaps it is because I do not smoke and drink with everyone who comes along. I am not a prude. I am ultra-modern, except in such things. I don't mind what other girls do, but it just doesn't appeal to me. I like to laugh and have a good time."

"He did not ask me to smoke or drink or pet the first time. He seemed content to be with me. What do you think the answer is?"

"Wonder."

The explanation is, probably very simple. A month is a long time in the life of the young man and a long time between dances. It could easily be that while he thoroughly enjoyed dancing with a score of other girls, too.

You are attaching too much importance to this episode. You were disappointed and piqued. The chances that there is any definite reason behind all this are remote. It's possible that you might have been too eager and frightened the young man away; girls often do just that.

It is a casual age; casual contacts are the order of the day. Don't waste any time mooning or worrying over this fellow. Try to cultivate a easy manner with your dancing partners. You are much too young to have your fun shadowed by any notions. Forget yourself. Get all the pleasure you can, which is considerable, out of dancing with good partners. Don't worry over their reactions. Let them worry about you and how you react to their attentions.

Mrs. Martin will be glad to answer in this column questions of general interest. Write on one side of the paper only and address her care of this paper. Mrs. Martin cannot reply individually to every correspondent. Names will not be published.

Short Cuts

When cooking potatoes be sure that the pot used is large enough. Potatoes need plenty of room to move around. If crowded in a pot, they bump and rub against each other, breaking the surface and mashing.

You can loosen the leaves of a tight head of lettuce by cutting out the core and letting a stream of cold water run in.

For creaming butter, a perforated wooden spoon is best. The job may be accomplished with the back of any spoon, but not as efficiently, especially if other foods are being creamed in with the butter.

When selecting liver and kidney, beef, veal mutton and lamb, look out for discoloration. They could be a brown color. If they are they should not be used.

To restore an old-fashioned bowl which has suffered neglect, lay the surface with crumpled newspapers first. Then scrub with scouring powder. Rub with some pointed stone of about 1/2 inch next, and the stone polished with a soft, clean cloth or brush. If the oven or any other part has become rusty, try steel wool. Rub with oil.

what disposition to make of the case. Many quarters regarded it as certain that he would recommend the charges be dropped.

Convicted in his first trial of beating his wife to death Memorial Day, 1935, in the bathroom of their home with an eight-inch iron pipe, Lamson won a Supreme Court retrial.

The second trial ended in a jury deadlock paralleling today's. A mistrial was declared the third time he was brought to court, due to alleged jury-picking irregularities.

FREEDOM SEEN

Considerable debate and speculation preceded decision to carry out the fourth trial. In view of the extensive difficulty experienced in obtaining a jury for the fourth trial it was considered likely Thomas would not attempt to force a fifth trial.

Three women among the five on the jury in the fourth trial were reported to have held out for his acquittal. One juror said that at no time was the jury involved in violent debate or argument. Today they appeared strangely light-hearted and jovial, apparently resigned to the fact they could not reach an agreement.

LAMSON SMILES

Lamson, his mouth twisted in an ironic smile as he heard Foreman Milton Raymond report, was led to his county jail cell as soon as the jury was dismissed. His sisters, Dr. Margaret Lamson and Mrs. Willis Thotts, accompanied him.

Aged by his battle for freedom, Lamson continually has demanded complete vindication, insisting that he would rather stand trial a dozen times than have the charges against him dismissed through failure to obtain a jury verdict.

Significantly, Frank Thorpe, brother of Mrs. Lamson, expressed no bitterness at the outcome today. A grim spectator at each of Lamson's trials, Thorpe said today: "Whatever future action the prosecution takes, the district attorney's staff has made a conscientious attempt to convict the man I believe killed my sister."

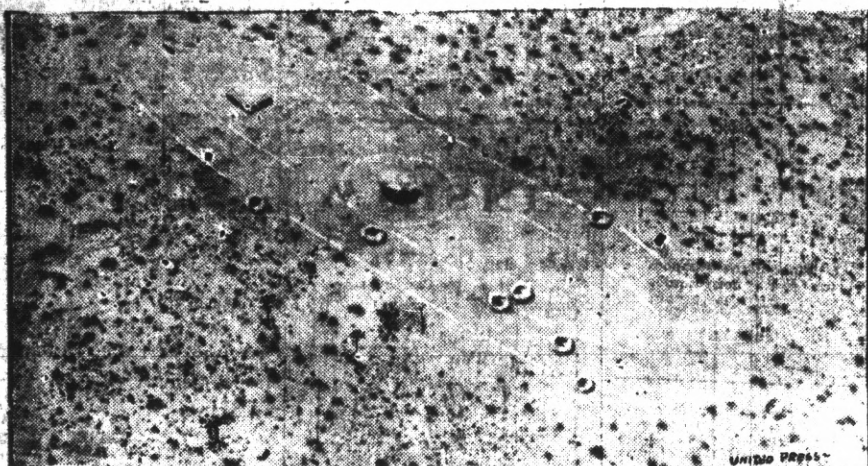

Bruno Has One Week To Live

TRENTON, N. J., March 24.—Bruno, Richard Hauptmann's life was measured down to one week tonight unless Governor Harold Hoffman issues another reprieve to the convicted murderer of the Lindbergh baby.

The New Jersey Court of Pardons met and adjourned today without receiving from C. Lloyd Fischer, Hauptmann's lawyer, application for clemency. It will meet again Saturday. At that time, Fischer is expected to file a plea, contending there is new evidence of sufficient weight and authenticity to justify commutation of the death sentence.

Second Trial Of Accounting Suit Is Being Heard

MARTINEZ, March 24.—Second trial of an accounting suit filed by Mrs. Frances McAllen, as administratrix of the estate of Mary Souza, against A. T. Souza, was started today in Superior Judge Thomas D. Johnston's court.

Originally tried in 1934, the action resulted in a judgment for the plaintiff, given by the late Superior Judge A. B. MacKenzie on February 21, 1935.

Attorneys for Souza appealed and the Appellate Court reversed the decision. Judge McKenzie, in his findings of fact, found that Souza and Mrs. Souza, who was known as Mrs. Lucene at that time, agreed to live together in the summer of 1898, and shared the money he made should be his, while the money she made was to be hers. Souza was engaged as a laborer at the time and she as a dressmaker.

Later the couple engaged in farming what was known as the Pinole Ranch, and for more than 20 years, through their joint efforts they accumulated a considerable amount of property and money, the court found.

The judge also found that all the money went into the possession of the defendant and decreed that the plaintiff was entitled to an accounting of property in Souza's name to determine what amount rightfully belongs to the heirs of Mrs. Souza.

Mrs. Souza is survived by eight children, who seek a share of the estate.

NEW YORK, March 24.—UP—The Frank Bouchers announced today that Jerry, their coffee-drinking sparrow, now is on a regular diet of steak, potatoes, eggs, butter and sugar.

They acquired Jerry four years ago in Ottawa. After months of training, he now comes to the table and eats whatever they have for dinner. The only things Jerry definitely refuses are onions and beer.

"How round a person is at that particular part of your anatomy?"

The determination of this new system was reached after a study of 200 football candidates at Stanford University, who averaged 15 pounds overweight as determined by the old standard tables, as well as several hundred students of both sexes in California and Stanford universities whose bi-iliac diameters showed that at least some of them were worrying too much about their weight problems.

It also was found that many children as well as adults either were underweight or overweight, according to the old standards, because of existing bone structure or other factors which had no bearing on their health.

The new bi-iliac diameter standard has been found useful in determining the nutritional needs of a person and placing the proper evaluation upon the dictates of fashion, food and diet fads.

Dr. Pryor gives as an example a 17-year old boy, 69 inches tall. With a bi-iliac diameter of 26.4 centimeters his appropriate weight should be 141 pounds. But with a bi-iliac diameter of 30.4 centimeters he should weigh 161 pounds. Doubtless you grasp the idea.

So if you should happen to see a rush in apartment stores at the notion counter, think nothing of it, for the bathroom scales will soon be as extinct as the dodo bird and the tape measure has come into its own.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—UP—Over-subscription of the Pacific Gas and Electric company's $30,000,000 first and refunding mortgage bond issue, hailed as the largest under the federal exchange commission, was announced here today by Blythe and Company Inc., heads of the nationwide syndicate which underwrote the issue.

Placed on the market this morning, the bonds were over-subscribed in record time and are now selling at a premium, according to the underwriters. The bonds were offered at 102 1-2, and accrued interest. Within a few hours they were quoted at 102 3-4 bid, and 103 asked.

MOONEY EATS FIRST LUNCH OUTSIDE CELL

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 24.—UP—Thomas J. Mooney, labor's most famous prisoner, ate his lunch outside prison bars today for the first time since he was convicted of the Preparedness Day bombing 11 years ago.

Mooney's reprieve from jail fare came during a recess in his hearing on an application for a writ of habeas corpus in which John Finerty, his attorney, charged "deliberate dishonesty or criminal negligence in the suppression of evidence" at his client's trial in 1917.

The graying convict, whose case has been a cause celebre among labor circles since he was sentenced to life imprisonment for his asserted part in the dynamite blast which killed 10 persons, was allowed to eat at a nearby cafe under surveillance of a deputy sheriff upon authority of a court order.

Miss Pauline Rader, school teacher near Raderstown, Mo., was the hero of the tornado in Missouri. When a dead calm followed strong winds and the sky grew black, she guessed a tornado was coming. "Run outside and lie down," she told her 17 pupils. They obeyed and a minute later the twister struck the schoolhouse and carried it away. Miss Rader and the children were struck by small sticks and stones, but none was hurt.

FREAK WINDS

The freak winds sent a major dust storm flying off in three directions. Some of the dust returned to the Western Oklahoma fields where it started. Other tons of silt drifted south over Texas and another section of the storm continued along its way into Illinois.

The roof of the Tyler airport hangar was torn away. A hangar at the Longview airport was wrecked. Three planes were damaged.
